

Takatoshi Kato

Senior Adviser to the President

Japan Center for International Finance (JCIF)

Mr. Takatoshi Kato is a senior adviser to the President, Japan Center for International Finance (JCIF) since October 2017.

He served as the President, JCIF from 2010 to 2017.

From 2004-2010, Mr. Kato served as Deputy Managing Director of the International Monetary Fund (IMF) in Washington, D.C.

Mr. Kato has held a series of senior positions at the Ministry of Finance of Japan. These include Vice-Minister of Finance for International Affairs (1995-97), and Director-General of the International Finance Bureau (1993-95). From 1985-87, he served as Executive Director for Japan at the Asian Development Bank (ADB).

He has a B.A. from Tokyo University and M.P.A. from Princeton University.