Dear Mr Cramer,

Please accept my apologies that I could not keep my appointment with you today because of unanticipated family reasons. I know we have rescheduled to meet on Monday.

In the meantime I did want to confirm to you so that you lose no time in making other arrangements that FTI is obliged to resign from its relationship with you. My colleagues have been proud of the work they have done for you over the years and are disappointed by the decision. However, circumstances have created a business conflict which cannot be allowed to continue.

Yours sincerely,
