

Royal Decree of 22 February 1812

It shall be an established rule that in all cases where Our Majesty's territorial frontier at sea falls to be determined, it shall be reckoned according to the customary distance in nautical miles from the outermost island or islet not swept over by the sea.