Emilio Lozoya Austin, former director of Petróleos Mexicanos (PEMEX) in the Government of Enrique Peña Nieto became the first high-level Mexican official to step on jail for the case on Wednesday Odebrecht.

Born into a family close to power, his father was Secretary of State, federal official and friend of former President Carlos Salinas de Gortari, Lozoya Austin was, in turn, a member of the first circle of former President Enrique Peña Nieto (2012-2018) and a fundamental piece of the plot of alleged bribes of the Brazilian construction company Odebrecht in Mexico.

"A member of a new generation of Mexican politicians, a new group called" Los Golden Boys ", Lozoya personifies the corruption of the past government. Either with the concessions with which he favored the Spanish company OHL, for accepting bribes from the construction company Odebrecht, during his time as coordinator of International Affairs for the Pe a Nieto campaign, or for using these resources to carry out the promised structural reforms at that time, the brand of the former director of Pemex led to the debacle of that 'new PRI' ", he writes in his book From the Golden Boys to examples of rot: the story of Lozoya, El Traidor , the journalist Mario Maldonado.

Emilio Lozoya has a degree in Economics from the Autonomous Technological Institute of Mexico (ITAM) and in Law from the National Autonomous University of Mexico (UNAM). In addition, he has a master's degree in International Development from Harvard University.
